

FAMILY VIOLENCE WORKSHOPS:

Strangulation & Domestic Violence in the New Zealand Context

A Discussion For Agencies and Communities

The facilitator will be Rob Veale.

Rob has worked to reduce domestic violence, and the effects of violence, as a police officer, detective, national and international advisor, and member of the Family Safety Team National Steering Committee and NZ Family Violence Death Review Committee.

Rob will be covering:

- Strangulation: introduction to the NZ context
- Signs, symptoms and best practice in the field of domestic violence
- Documenting, note taking as an advocate and information advocates can use
- Recommendations and findings from the fourth report of the NZ Family Violence Death Review Committee
